GO GREEN AND JOIN PACKAGING NGOS RECYCLING DRIVE

THE Polystyrene Packaging Council (PPC) and other packaging NGOs have joined hands to tackle the carbon crisis and other environmental issues, the PPC's director said yesterday.

Adri Spangenberg said waste was a big problem in the country because there was not enough landfill space, so recycling polystyrene would help decrease the environmental crisis.

In collaboration with Wholeearth Recycling, you can now have recyclable items picked up at your front door for a small fee.
